UNDERSTANDING CHINA COMMUNICATING WITH THE WORLD

Antai Global Summer Program (AGSP) was initiated by Antai College of Economics and Management, Shanghai Jiao Tong University in 2013. Taught in English, this 3-week-long, credit-conferring certificate program integrates frontier knowledge of Antai Faculty and insights from corporate executives to offer a comprehensive view of Chinese business and culture in a globally engaging way. AGSP focuses on empowering young business leaders to understand business and culture in China.

So far, AGSP has welcomed more than 400 participants of both business and non-business majors from over 30 countries and regions from top universities or business schools around the world, such as Harvard University, University of Cambridge, Northwestern University, University of British Columbia, University of Sydney, Technical University of Munich and so on.

WHY AGSP (5As)

A 3-week summer program
integrating intense business education in China context with corporate experience.

An exciting global summer program conducted in Shanghai, the business center of China.

A diverse student mix
from top universities across continents.

A variety of curricular and extra-curricular activities featuring lectures, case studies, corporate experience, sightseeing and cultural events.

A certificate from Shanghai Jiao Tong University and 3 SJTU academic credits upon successful completion of the program.

TESTIMONIALS

University of Cambridge

Carl-Fredrik, Undergraduate

I studied Asian studies in the UK. Before I came, I knew a lot about Japanese culture and Korean culture, but I felt in order to broaden my horizons and grasp East Asia societies, I really had to come to China and learn about Chinese culture, and see what China is like and how it's different from its neighbors.

Technical University of Munich

Simon, Graduate

I have an engineering background and want to know how to do business in China. It's a great opportunity to be here to learn how Chinese people think and how Chinese companies are managed.

Northwestern University

Marina, Undergraduate

Everything exceeded my expectation --- the lectures, the professors, people in the program, and China itself. I was not expecting such high-caliber, such important lecturers.

University of Strathclyde

Mohammed, Graduate

We went to companies that are fully private-owned, state-controlled and a couple of multi-national companies. To see the differences and how they operate in China was extremely interesting. The cultural visits were all great.

HSE University

Victoria, Undergraduate

After this three-week summer program, I would like to consider a long-term exchange program at Antai, or pursuing a master degree at Shanghai Jiao Tong University.
